

New Flood Hazard Maps for DeKalb County Learn your current flood risk at an upcoming Open House

DeKalb County's flood risk information has been revised and updated flood hazard maps are now ready for review. Revisions to these mapping products may affect residents and business owners in unincorporated DeKalb County, the City of Atlanta, the City of Avondale Estates, the City of Brookhaven, the City of Chamblee, the City of Clarkston, the City of Decatur, the City of Doraville, the City of Dunwoody, and the City of Tucker. You can view the new preliminary maps to see how your flood risk may have changed, learn how they can affect building and flood insurance requirements and find out what your options are at the following Open House:

Wednesday, December 6, 2017
5:00 PM – 7:00 PM
Maloof Auditorium
1300 Commerce Drive
Decatur, GA 30030

DeKalb County and local officials, along with representatives from the Georgia Department of Natural Resources and FEMA, will be on hand to answer questions.

The maps are also available at the City of Chamblee Development Department, 3506 Broad Street, Monday – Friday, 8:30 AM – 5 PM, or call (770) 986-5024, and available online at www.GeorgiaDFIRM.com. For more information, visit <http://chambleega.com/>.

More up-to-date flood hazard maps ultimately mean a safer, more resilient DeKalb County.
